Last Saturday, our school held a Tea Culture Day. In the morning, a teacher introduced the history of tea. Then we learned how to make tea properly. At first, I thought it was simple, but I soon realized that every step required care. In the afternoon, we designed posters and shared what we had learned with younger students. I was tired but proud because the activity helped us understand traditional Chinese culture more deeply.

101. When did the school hold Tea Culture Day? _____
